

Does your company suffer from redundant processes?

CC Pace integrates business functions and systems to reduce processing time, improve management of both information and human resources, and achieve overall cost efficiencies. Our business-oriented approach to integration helps our clients deal with volatile business conditions. An adaptive planning and design process and close working relationships with clients ensures that end results meet business needs.

CC Pace's integration expertise includes:

- ◆ Analyzing the business impact of integration and how/where to include software integration to improve business results.
- ◆ Integrating Web-based workflow tools with back-end applications and databases, from business analysis through data mapping, application customization and testing.
- ◆ Analyzing and selecting vendor software packages and integrating them with the client's existing legacy environment.
- ◆ Developing custom interfaces to connect with third parties and business partners.
- ◆ Working in a co-sourcing environment in partnership with the client's IT organization to leverage the best skills to complete the work—or working as a self-managed project team.
- ◆ Delivering end user and technical training in both classroom settings and onsite.
